LAUNCHING OF SHIP FAILURE SECOND TIME

Portland, Me., April 26.—The second attempt to launch the Anden, built at the yards of the Portland Ship Building Company, East Deering, for the Emergency Fleet Corporation Thursday, failed. The steamer started at 11:05 a. m. and slid about 100 feet when she came to a complete stop. Two big ocean going tugs bent on two hawsers and another hawser was attached to a Grand Trunk engine nearby in the railroad yard, and although they pulled and tugged, the ship moved only slightly, the high tide backing about four feet of her stern. It was soon seen that attempts to pull the ship off might damage it, and all attempts to move her were given up. It will be necessary to raise the hull enough to pry the ways and cradle apart and then apply a plentiful supply of grease. It will probably be a week or ten days before another attempt is made.

TANK AMERICA WAS DAMAGED BY GERMANS

Boston, April 26.—Clement John A. Johnston commanding the Department of the Northeast, yesterday admitted that the new Boston built war tank, "America" has been tampered with by German agents and that this is the main cause for his not yet being in active operation. "The complete facts in the case will be announced later," he said. Attempts to induce the tank were made prior to the first trip and the fact that other attempts may be made is responsible for the slight guard that is placed about it.

Yesterday Maj.-Gen. William M. Black, chief of the engineers of the army; Lieut. Colonel Earl North, his senior aid, and Lieut. Col. Alden of the ordnance department from Washington inspected the "America" and were enthusiastic over the practicability and possibilities of the machine. They congratulated General Johnston and those associated with him in the construction of the tank, but all agreed that it was a mistake to take the machine out for the Liberty Day parade without giving it at least a full week's shop trial.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advanced age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes beautifully thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

WOULD PUNISH MAJ. GEN. WOOD FOR CONTEMPT

(By Associated Press)

Washington, April 26.—A motion for a rule to punish Major General Wood for contempt was filed in the United States supreme court Thursday by James Taylor, counsel for Robert Cox, a drafted man, whose appeal in habeas corpus proceedings was pending when he was sent to France.

The motion grows out of the case of Cox against General Wood, recently argued before the supreme court.

In this case the constitutional question is raised whether a member of the national militia can be ordered beyond the boundaries of the country. It was argued by Mr. Taylor that the law was established by a long list of cases, by action of congress and by administrative acts of the executive, that the militia can only be used to suppress insurrection and repel invasion.

"OUR BOYS IN FRANCE"

Big Spectacular Up-to-Date Melodrama Staged at Boston Opera House, at Popular Prices.

The most elaborate and stupendous production that A. H. Woods has ever offered to the theatre-going public will be seen at the Boston Opera House next Monday evening, April 29, when Lincoln J. Carter's spectacular melodrama of the war is presented for an indefinite engagement. The production comprising twelve scenes and a company of more than fifty people, promises to be a revelation in the purely mechanical achievements of the theatre.

This most startling episode of modern war are revealed with a fidelity and spectacular ingenuity that bids fair to make "Our Boys in France" a true epic of the war. Among the incidents projected in the course of the play are a battle in the air between an American flyer and four German planes; a charge "over the top" depicting the Russian of the advance of thousands of men; a trench scene at night as vivid as actuality; an explosion of gas tanks, and the blowing up of a dike. In addition the play conveys a faithful impression of Belgian life in the wake of the devastating advance of the German army. The story deals with the conversion of a young American from pacifism to intense patriotism, which manifests itself in daring exploits in the air and wins for him first the admiration then the love of a young and beautiful Belgian girl. The play is replete with tense situations and moves with the swiftness of the events which form its background.

An important feature of this engagement will be the prices for the special suburban matinees on Wednesday afternoons, when the prices for best reserved seats in various part of the theatre, are 25 cent and 50 cents, and no higher. The prices at the evening and Saturday matinee performances will range from 25 cents to $1.00.

AMERICAN LAUNCHES SAVE 200 FROM BLOCK SHIPS

Dover, England, April 25 (By the Associated Press).—One of the most thrilling incidents of the British naval raid on Zebrugghe last Tuesday was the rescue by two American-built motor launches of nearly 200 members of the crew of two block ships sunk at the entrance to the Bruges canal. The feat was accomplished under a heavy fire and the actual transfer was made in less than five minutes.

Two of the three block ships which passed inside the Mole reached their objective and swung broadside across the mouth of the channel. Then, according to plans, two motor launches dashed in from the sea through the enemy barrage at express trail speed and drew up alongside.

All the time shells were falling, some striking the block ships and causing numerous casualties, but the crews up held their traditions for coolness.

WOUNDED AND BURIED THREE DAYS

(By Associated Press)
American Army in France. (By Associated Press) April 25.—Further details of the fight at St. Etienne show

DROPPED TONS OF BOMBS ON SHIP

(By Associated Press)
London, April 25.—More than fifteen tons of bombs were dropped by British aircraft at or upon the disabled former German battle cruiser Goeben while she lay aground at Nagara Point, in the Dardanelles, last January after a disastrous sortie, says a detailed story of the affair which has just been received here. Two hundred and seventy-five airplane flights were made in an attempt to complete the destruction of the warship. Eight or ten airplanes continuously harried the Goeben and Breslau during their sortie from the Dardanelles, compelling them to steer a zig-zag course which eventually brought the Breslau into a British minefield, where she struck a mine. Shortly afterward, she was hit by an aircraft bomb and sank. The Goeben, heading for home, also struck a mine and developed a serious list. Aircraft continued to bomb her while she entered the straits and ran aground at Nagara Point. For seven days she remained there, subjected to continual attacks from the British aircraft.

On January 29, a British scout machine sighted the Goeben in the Arsenal Dry Docks at Constantinople.

GERMANY CAN'T KEEP PAGE WITH H. C. L.

Washington, April 25.—Increases in wages paid in Germany have utterly failed to keep pace with the increased cost of living, says the April bulletin of the department of labor.

The average increase in wages has been 50 per cent, while the living cost has gone up 300 per cent. The greatest increase has been received by Prussian metal workers, who are now getting 69 per cent more than they formerly received. Increases as low as 15 per cent have been reported and some women are still being paid less than $2.50 a week.

The purchasing power of money has dropped to one-fourth its value before the war, according to the bulletin. German workmen, it says, are being underfed. One egg a week is their allowance. Oleomargarine is limited to an ounce and a half for a family of four.

Sugar is more plentiful, the family allowance being one and one-half pounds. Coffee is practically unobtainable. Potatoes are the heaviest item in the ordinary diet.

Beneficial But Unpopular.

This paper has in the past had something to say on the subject of walking as a healthful exercise, and its views on the subject have not changed. There is the most abundant proof that as a body builder walking is one of the best things in the world, yet in spite of this fact it has been steadily going out of fashion in recent years for reasons that are very easy to understand.

The multiplication of trolley railways and automobiles has done much to discourage the habit of walking, especially in the large centers, where trolley lines run through nearly all of the principal streets, ready to carry people from one place to another at any hour of the day and at almost any hour of the night at the minimum of cost. These cars are a great convenience and utterly indispensable in the scheme of modern life, but they have done more than any other one thing to throw the walking habit into the discard and cause people to imagine that they are almost as helpless in the matter of getting from one part of a town to another as if they had no legs. The idea of walking even a few blocks is considered preposterous by the average city dweller, old or young. The bicycle in its day did much to banish the habit of walking, and what the trolley cars and bicycle left to be done in this direction has been completed by the automobile.

But the soldiers still have to walk. They call it marching in the army, but marching is nothing but a body of men walking together in regular step. While the marches are oftentimes wearisome they help to make the men healthy and strong, and one prominent newspaper ventures the prediction that when the boys come home they will teach the value of walking to the great body of citizens who have practically forgotten it.

This, however, is much to be doubted. The chances are far greater that the veterans themselves will feel that they have done their share of walking and will be as eager for transportation when they have a few blocks or a few miles to go as the folks who stay at home.

But all this does not disprove the fact that walking is one of the most healthful exercises available to men and women, and that most men and women would be better off if they would do more of it. The car, trolley or motor, is all right in cases of necessity and hurry, but the person who indulges in a swinging walk when the conditions are favorable is invariably the better for it. By this exercise the lungs are filled, the appetite is sharpened and the muscles are developed and strengthened, and in addition to these benefits mental dullness or depression is often removed.

Walking is a good thing, a much better form of exercise than most people in this age of quick and cheap transportation are aware of. It would be well for the people if it could become more popular, but it has gone so thoroughly out of vogue that it seems almost too much to hope that it ever will, and it is to be feared that those who are relying upon the soldiers to stimulate an interest in it when they get home will be disappointed. It is more probable, and regrettably we say it, that the soldiers themselves will quit walking and proceed to ride with the crowd.

Another lynching to the discredit of the country, this taking place in Tennessee and the victim being a negro, of course. This sort of thing is bad advertising for a country that professes to be fighting against barbarism.

Who says that women are not as well qualified to vote as men? They are accused of "repeating" in at least one city in New York state at the time of the recent local option vote, and an official investigation has been begun.

Now that the maple sugar makers have come to the rescue the other fellows are ready to show their hand, which they did by landing a cargo of 4,000,000 pounds of sugar at an Atlantic port a few days ago.

A Connecticut man in good health wrote his own obituary not long ago and died three days later. The moral, if any there is, would seem to be that it is as well to leave obituary writing to the obituary writers.

One Boston food dealer has suffered the suspension of his business for a month for violating the rules. One such example is worth more than a whole lot of talk in causing the rules to be respected.

People endeavoring to conserve food should not overlook dandelion greens, which are one of the best spring tonics as well as one of the most toothsome dishes ever placed on the table.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Silence Suggests Suspicion.
(From the Albany Journal)
If Germany were getting, or expected soon to get, large food supplies from Ukraine, there would be plentiful information from Berlin.

This May Comfort Someone.
(From the Minneapolis Journal)
Though the Potsdam news has got the whole world into a snarl, it must be admitted that they have combed all the "nests" out of the Ten Commandments.

The Only "Classes" Recognized.
(From the Baltimore Star)
There are two classes of people now in the United States—a class that is willing to do all it can to win the war and a class that gets terribly peevish when it has to eat war bread.

The Refert Courteous.
(From the New York Herald)
"Press on!" was Secretary Baker's parting word to General Pershing and the American Army in France. Is it less majestic to express the hope that General Pershing's reply was a polite "Same to you?"

They Are Drinking of Letho.
(From the Detroit Free Press)
The Germans are said to be giving their soldiers large drinks of whiskey and rum doused with a little ether to make them reckless of consequences before they go into battle. This may work all right on the battlefield, but what are the Prussians giving the German people to drink to make them stand for the fruitless death lists?

In Praise of Hoover.
(From the Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph)
Mr. Hoover's administration has been attacked by critics of all kinds, animated by various motives, but in his speeches in this city he has not been on the defensive. He has not found it necessary to adopt the role of the apologist. His achievements speak for themselves. While they would have been impossible without the general cooperation of the people, expert, inspiring leadership such as he has furnished was also indispensable to the operation of the great plan.

Getting Lost in Law.
(From the Syracuse Post-Standard)
Huntley Taylor is a great lawyer, so given to thinking about problems of law that he overlooks problems of life.

Mr. Taylor wants the United States Supreme Court to declare that Uncle Sam has no power to send troops abroad to fight; and as an incident to his legal plantations he wants General Wood punished for contempt for sending his (Taylor's) client abroad while his case was still under consideration by the Supreme Court. As the Supreme Court has a lot of important business on hand, it will be justified in reserving decision on Mr. Taylor's case until after the war.

Meantime some lesser lawyer should explain to the Alabamians what we are fighting for.

Quality Sure, Quantity Wanted.
(From the New York Herald)
Allied allies, Secretary Baker declares, praise courage and endurance of American troops abroad—headline. Never has there been in the minds of the American people the slightest doubt of the courage or endurance of the men under Pershing. The British Tommy who finds the American soldier "a bit of all right" regards a veteran "a bit of all right" regardless of whether without boastfulness, is joined in by every person in the land except the occasional Boche. He sneers at the soldier of democracy just as he sneers at democracy, for he can understand neither. He, however, is doomed to a rude awakening. Real Americans certainly no doubt on the score of quality of their men abroad. Their only concern is over quantity.

Fanaticism Not Patriotism.
(From the Chicago Tribune)
The proposal to remove the statue of Goethe from Lincoln Park is an expression of fanaticism which would discredit our cause, not help it. Goethe's intellect, though truly and nobly German, belongs to the world, and we should simply cheat ourselves by turning away from it because the modern masters of Germany, or, for that matter, the German people of today, are our enemies. We call the Germans barbarians, but they are not so barbarous as to refuse Shakespeare because Shakespeare was an Englishman and his poetry intensely English. We cannot beat Germany by pulling down statues of great Germans in Washington or Chicago. We cannot beat Germany by refusing to recognize what is good in the Germany of the past or in the Germany of the present.

Attacks upon German culture (not Prussian Kultur) are not only stupid and discreditable to ourselves, but they are mischievous in breeding unjust and irrational hostility to loyal Americans of German blood and thus creating a schism in our American family where none should be. That means a weakening of our country and is false patriotism.

As To Interning Women.
(From the Brooklyn Eagle)
It is estimated that 50,000 women are subject to internment as a result of the new legislation amending the enemy alien laws. A considerable number of these are of good American families, born here, educated here, whose mistake was in taking as husbands men who were and are German subjects. That makes them aliens. The efforts of Jeanette M. Rankin, M. C., to have their individual naturalization provided for have failed.

Now the Eagle was, we believe, the first newspaper to bring out strongly the need of law for restraint of women spies, often more dangerous than men in the collection of information for Berlin. Clearly, entrance into barred zones by alien women could not be tolerated. Clearly sex distinction was made impossible by military exigencies.

Yet we hope and believe that the Government will not with deliberation and with consideration of all the elements involved when it comes to sending women in large numbers to internment camps. Some things that are necessary are not pleasant. The possible scandals in big internment camps for women can be imagined. What is done must be done with care and forethought. We cannot afford to give and we will not give Germany any chance to interpret our action as something resembling her own cruelties to women in Belgium. The civility of Americans extends to all good women, even good women who are initially praying for German success.

STRAWBERRY BANK GRANGE

Strawberry Bank Grange held its regular meeting last evening at the Grange hall when Deputy State Master C. S. Philbrick of Newmarket was present to inspect the work of the first degree.

The Grange Sewing Circle met in the afternoon, the time being devoted to knitting for the Red Cross. Supper was served at 6 o'clock, the committee in charge being Mrs. Annie Hunter, Mrs. Carrie Burton, Mrs. Margaret Inglis and Mrs. Clark.

At the business session at the Grange meeting it was voted to buy another Liberty Loan. It was also voted to have a service flag for the Grange members and Martin Pilley was chosen as chairman of a committee to arrange for the same.

A committee was also appointed to see that notices of the regular meetings of the Grange were sent to the shipping plants and other places that visiting patrons of husbandry could then know of the times of meetings and visit the order.

Deputy State Master Philbrick made his inspection of the degree work, the latter being made more impressive by appropriate tableaux. Major F. W. Hartford gave an address on the Third Liberty Loan. At the conclusion of the meeting games were enjoyed.

Mrs. John O'Donnell contributed to the program by vocal solos which were well rendered. The popular composition "Keep the Home Fires Burning" being especially received with enthusiasm.

PAUL—WADRUP

South Eliot Young Man in Naval Service Weds Roxbury Girl.

The marriage of Miss Edith D. Wadrup of Roxbury, Mass., to Harold L. Paul of South Eliot took place at Cambridge, Mass., on Saturday, April 20.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. L. Leslie, pastor of the Methodist church, the double ring service being used. Only the parents of the bride were in attendance. Following the wedding the young couple took the evening train for Maine where they have been passing the week with the groom's mother, Mrs. Ella B. Paul of South Eliot.

The groom is a second class yeoman in the U. S. navy, being stationed at present in the inspection department of the Charlestown navy yard.

Among the beautiful wedding gifts the young couple received were a handsome upholstered leather mission chair and a mahogany sewing table from Mr. Paul's associates at the navy yard.

Both the bride and the groom have a wide circle of friends and are highly esteemed by all who know them, and they have the best wishes of their friends for many years of happiness and prosperity. Mr. Paul previous to his enlistment in the navy was with the O'Brien and Russell Co., of Boston for six years.

INCREASE FOR YARD WORKMEN
The wage increase for workmen at the Portsmouth navy yard which the officials at the station recommended has been approved by the department at Washington and the new schedule will be put in operation on May 1. The increase affects nearly every man on the civilian payroll.

This is the most substantial and general increase so far ordered by the navy department and will affect over 1000 hands.

D. D. Dickey, engineer in a Harborton, O., factory, spent just $35.28 for food, or an average of about 15 cents a day, during 1917. Dickey worked all through the year, 12 hours a day, six days a week, and gained two pounds during the year.

SEMI-ANNUAL C. E. CONVENTION

Fast Day Meeting Attended By Over One Hundred From Rockingham Co.

The semi-annual convention of the Rockingham County Christian Endeavor Union, held Thursday at the Congregational church at Hampton, was largely attended and considered one of the most successful ever held, over one hundred Christian Endeavorers registering and the officers were given great credit for their efficient work for the past year. The convention was attended by a good sized delegation from this city, including Rev. William P. Stanley, Rev. Percy Warren Caswell and Secretary William M. Forgrave of the Y. M. C. A. War Work Council.

The program was an exceptionally helpful and interesting one, opening with a praise and devotional service led by W. H. Stearns of Hampton. The address of welcome was given by E. L. Dearborn, president of the Hampton Christian Endeavor society. Rev. E. P. Moulton of Mills, Mass., formerly pastor of the Free Will Baptist church of this city, gave an excellent address on "The Christian Endeavor Pledge." He was followed by Rev. Jack Hyde who gave an able talk principally on Christian Endeavor work and the war. This was especially interesting, not only on account of the subject, but as the speaker was a member of the Middle Street Baptist church and well known in that society. He is now acting chaplain in the U. S. navy.

At noon dinner was served in the church vestry and the afternoon session began with the open forum, being led by L. P. Macdonald, president of the Union; the main topic being the standard campaign and it was pleasing to have it announced that Rockingham county Union is rated as a superior one in the campaign.

Rev. Percy Warren Caswell of this city gave an able address on "The Call of Christian Endeavor" which was listened to with marked interest. District Secretary William M. Forgrave of the War Work Council gave a talk on "Passing the Buck," telling of passing the responsibility on to others. The officers elected for the year were as follows:

- President—Lyman F. Macdonald, Portsmouth.
- Vice President—Miss Mabel Hayes, Exeter.
- Secretary—Miss Evelyn Badger, Portsmouth.
- Treasurer—Miss Thelma Shaw, Hampton.
- Junior Superintendent—Miss Hazel Jones, Exeter.
- Chairman of the Outlook Committee—Mrs. H. E. Seavey, North Hampton.
- Pastorate Council—Rev. William P. Stanley, Portsmouth.

The convention was concluded with a few words by Lyman F. Macdonald the newly elected president.

Before the gathering left for their homes many expressions of appreciation were given the Congregational parish of Hampton for the hospitality shown the visitors.

The next convention will be held on Columbus day at the Congregational church at North Hampton.

CHAUTAUQUA SPEAKER COMING TO THIS CITY

J. C. Elliott of Los Angeles to Lecture on "Prevention of Disease by Right Living"

A number of the churches of Portsmouth have completed arrangements with J. C. Elliott of Los Angeles, a noted health specialist of national reputation for a series of Chautauqua health lectures to be delivered in the churches of this city on Prevention of Disease by Right Living. Admission will be free to the entire course of lectures. This course of lectures has been packed to the doors many of the largest auditoriums of the nation. The attendance in Trinity Auditorium, Los Angeles, reached over 60,000. Mr. Elliott will deliver a sermon-lecture in the Middle Street Baptist church Sunday morning on "Bartering Health for Gold," or "Selling our Brightness for a Mass of Foggage." He will speak Sunday night in the Congregational church on "The Relation of Religion and Health." The opening week-night lecture will be given Monday night at 7.15 in the Middle Street Baptist church. The series of lectures will be held the second week in the First Methodist church.

Mr. Elliott says, "The entire theme of this course of lectures will be Prevention of Disease by Right Living. Our bodies were created for health, not disease. Disease is the result of the violation of the laws of health. We are largely responsible for the diseases that fasten themselves upon us. Heredity is a minor factor in the cause of disease. Ignorance, wilful neglect, and criminal abuse of the body are largely responsible for the diseases of the present. Wilful neglect in breathing, bathing, diet and exercise, criminal abuse in oxygen starvation, loss of sleep, the abnormal food supply and the lack of a balanced ration—these are the chief causes of disease. Prevention of disease is presented in this course of lectures in its perfect harmony with the work of the physician and the principles of medicine. This is a popular course of lectures that bring a health education to the masses. They are scientific in character so that they appeal to the business and professional men and women as well as to the students of many schools, high schools and colleges before graduation, may have their full time to secure an education and an adequate preparation for efficiency in their life work, to disease. Prevention of Disease by Right Living will be discussed in the lecture Monday night.

BRITISH SUBJECTS HERE

URGED TO ENLIST
All Previous Exemptions in Canada Have Been Cancelled, and All Must Now Serve.

Since the last three weeks, the British and Canadian residents in this state have been heavily following the official communications from the western front and that there cannot be a man who does not fully realize the gravity of the situation. However, one must not be pessimistic. One is far too liable to look at the black side of things.

In Canada, there is an amendment to the military service act whereby all exemptions will be cancelled that have already been given to Canadians and British subjects residing in Canada. All men will be liable to military service here before and on the 13th of October, 1917. Canada having realized that no man should receive exemption who is fit for military service. The attention of those residing in the United States is called to regulation 10 of the order in council amending the military service act, which reads as follows:

"Whereunder or pursuant to any treaty or convention with any foreign government or any country provision is now or may hereafter be made that the subjects of such government or the citizens of such country resident in Canada may be made liable by military law to military service, such subjects or citizens of such government or country may be called out by proclamation; and shall report, be liable to military law, and be placed on active service, as may be specified in said proclamation or in the act or the regulation thereunder."

You can draw your own conclusion that if this is done in United States citizens in Canada, the same will be done to British and Canadian subjects resident in the United States. Though you may be in the United States draft, there cannot be a man who does not realize that man power will win this war. If you join up with the Canadians, another man will subject residing in the United States. State draft, and then there will be two men fighting in the same battle. You have seen what your brothers over there are doing. Won't the reader of this, if he is a British or Canadian subject, though he may have his first papers, come and do his bit? It is not a time to boggle over technicalities, but everyone should be up and doing.

NOTICE

LUXEMBURG RESIGNED TO INEVITABLE

(By Associated Press)

The Hague, April 26—"Luxemburg is resigned to the inevitable," said P. de Colnet Hauri, the charge d'affaires here for the little grand duchy, to the Associated Press correspondent. Mr. Hauri has just returned to his post at the Hague after about twelve months' absence, and he is almost the only link between his secluded country and the outside world. Completed surrounded by warring nations and itself in occupation of the invaders, Luxemburg is in a helpless condition.

"The Germans," Mr. Hauri told the correspondent, "send us a little food but never except in exchange for something else. We recently bartered red clover seed against a little bread-grain, and so we carry on."

"The Germans are in possession of the whole Grand Duchy as far as the control of the great arteries of communication are concerned. The most direct route from the whole center of the western front to the main German home bases leads through Luxemburg. 'Oh, yes,' we are still an independent country," Mr. Hauri went on, with the ghost of a smile. "We are not 'requisitioned' as the Belgians people are. In the rural districts we do our own milking to prevent robberies of farm products and to keep down smuggling. I must admit that the occupying forces behave generally well. Fortunately our people are quiet and sedate by nature. Slight friction occurs once in a while—what would you?—but nothing serious. We can only stand and wait."

"Our Grand Duchess is still on the throne, and we have a purely business government of five—three clerical and two liberals—but nobody bothers about local politics just now. Our only problem is how to keep alive. Evidence of underfeeding are becoming apparent everywhere. All articles of consumption are strictly rationed. Of bread, we get 200 grams a day, and it is very poor in quality. Sugar we haven't seen for months. Butter and soap are also extremely scarce. Our only hope is now the potato crop. If that fails we are lost."

And New Hampshire, too, "dry" after April 20. And that famous Portsmouth brewery, what of it? Good many years since we've had any of that Frank Jones' beer.—Bridgton (Maine) News.

Honestly, Major Shorey, did you ever have any of that beer in the shape of drinking it? Your record and reputation as a total abstemious cover such a long period that it might be assumed you had forgotten your "ever had any of that.... beer" even if you were at one time familiar with its seductive influence.—Bridgton Journal.

We advise the major to refuse to answer "on the ground," etc. Harry Andrews once wrote a Lewiston Journal "State Chat" about that brewery, and when the proof came down for his reading it ran "Frank Jones' creamery." Harry read it, cocked his head up sideways and regarded it, and then laughed "That Hot Amendment accepted"—and it went "creamery." Now then, Major, a long LONG time ago, did you rather enjoy a mug of nice, let-cold, foamy "cream"?—Kennebec Journal.

FAMINE HAS BECOME A REALITY

(By Associated Press)
 Detroit, April 26.—People are dying of hunger in the streets of the large towns of Persia, notably in Hamadan and Sena, says a dispatch from Kazvin to the Associated Press.

"The specter of famine has become a fearful reality," the correspondent writes. "To pass through two or three streets in Hamadan or Sena is enough to come upon two or three dead bodies. Here and there may be seen groups of women mourning over their dead. Here is a beggar woman, a mother with two children; one of them, a baby in arms, is dead, and near the mother on the ground is another child. The mother herself is already motionless, with a frozen, intelligent stare. The Persians, seeing that a human being is 'really' dying, shove some bread into the dying woman's mouth, but the belated help of course does not save her life. The poor villagers fleeing from the villages to the towns hoping to find to be fed there.

"Even in Kazvin, this more or less well-to-do town, it has more than once fallen to the lot of your correspondent to take up from the streets people who had been unable to move. Mothers sell their daughters, and more children, in order to secure a crust of bread; wives of poor men are given to the rich that their families may be maintained.

"In Hamadan, a few days ago, sparks of a hunger riot broke out, and it was only the presence of Russian troops that stopped the movement that was ready to embrace the whole country with its flames.

"There is a report that Kuchik Khan, that 'freedom' chief, who lives in the forests near Hesch, and has under arms about 30,000 mounted men is only waiting to raise a revolt against the Russian troops.

"While trying to organize among the Persians, public aid for the starving, I am brought up against either the Persians' indifference or their government that is made impotent by bribery and corruption, of a truly Oriental character.

"The misery is almost irredeemable."

ITALIANS HOLD LIBERTY RALLY

Hear Speaker and Subscribe For the Liberty Loan

There was a largely attended Italian Liberty Bond rally at Prince hall on Thursday evening, which was attended by upwards of 250 members of the Italian colony and following the meeting many of them subscribed for the loan.

Mr. Joseph Sacco presided and introduced as the speaker of the evening Mr. G. Gubio of Boston, an Italian banker, who delivered a very interesting talk on Italian life and the need of every loyal American and Italian as well as subscribing to help out in this great struggle.

The American and Italian flags were draped together and he pointed out the fact that they were together in Italy and in France and that they were allies. He pictured the condition in Italy and the great assistance that had been rendered that country in its time of need by America and of the fact that upon this country was falling the financial burden of the war and of the great need of every Italian to do his bit by taking a liberty bond.

It was a good meeting and following speaking representatives of the local banks were present to assist those wishing to subscribe while Chairman Comer, assisted by Frank H. Randall and Laurence G. Peyster, and County Chairman F. M. Siz were present to enroll as many as possible.

One of the best boosters for the liberty loan in the Italian colony is M. Montoni of the Shattuck Co., a hustler and a thoroughly loyal Italian as well as a good citizen of this country.

HANNIBAL CREW ENTERTAINS WITH A DANCE

The crew of the U. S. S. Hannibal were the hosts on Thursday evening at the State Armory to their friends in this city and there was a good gathering.

Through the efforts of Mr. Hebbard of the Foodstuffs Commission the use of the Armory for this dance was obtained and it proved a very good place for the party. The ships crew had been liberal with their invitations and they proved excellent hosts. The dance was very prettily decorated the national colors being used in profusion.

The music was furnished by one of the bands from the yard and at intermission refreshments were served. The dance was under the direction of the Foodstuffs Commission.

DANCE FOR YOUNG PEOPLE

The Country Club are to give a May party, a dancing assembly at Pelce hall, on Wednesday, May 1st, for the young people of the club and their guests. The Mardens will furnish music and the patronesses will be Mrs. C. E. Leavitt, Mrs. W. A. Dragoon, Mrs. John H. Sweetser and Mrs. R. H. McDonough.

OPEN AIR RALLY THIS EVENING

The Liberty Bond rally which will be held this evening, on Market Square will attract a large crowd. A band will give a concert and the speakers will be Dr. Shaw of Nashua and a member of the British military mission now in this country. The latter a man who has been at the front for two years and has gone through many of the most noted battles, a man with a message that the people of this city can little afford to miss.

During the afternoon and evening the local banks will be kept open and it is hoped that Liberty Bond day in this city will be the banner day of the entire drive.

SPORT NOTES OF INTEREST

Exeter's relay team left Thursday afternoon for Philadelphia where it will compete in the national one mile preparatory school championship against Hill school of Pottstown, Pa., and Mercersburg Academy of Mercersburg, Pa. The team is a fast one and can travel a mile faster than the one last year which won the title. It should be able to turn in figures less than three minutes. Thirty seconds and come near the record of three minutes 25 1-5 seconds made by the Exeter team of 1914. John W. Poole, Jr., of Jaffrey, is the boy from New Hampshire on the team. He won a place by beating out C. H. Watson, a veteran of the indoor relay team. Poole is good for close on to 51 seconds for the 100 yards, and the fastest man, H. T. Turkelson of Sioux Rapids, Ia., was timed in 50 2-5 seconds. The other two members will be Captain R. G. Smith of Chester, W. Va., and H. O. Chapman, Jr., of Woodmere, N. Y.

A baseball team from the Signal Corps, Camp Devens, won from the City Club at Concord Thursday afternoon. The soldier baseball team was a fast working blue, and Cavanaugh, the former Chicago Cub pitcher, had good support for the seven innings he pitched. Powers of Dartmouth succeeded him in the box and in the 9th inning, after two men were out, Janvrin, the old Red Sox favorite was sent in to finish the game. Janvrin got one strike out to his credit and gave out the only pass of the game. Ralph Cutting who pitched the entire game for Concord did fine work but received poor support. Twelve hundred people witnessed the game.

An all star team from Camp Devens journeyed to Manchester last day and took a fast game from St. Andrew's college by a score of 4 to 3. After St. Andrews had wrenched the lead away from the Camp Devens nine, Mulcahy, the old Tufts college player, leaped on one of Reynolds' special deliveries in the ninth inning for a three bagger that brought about a tie score and sent the game into an extra frame. Conney, of the Boston Red Sox opened the tenth session with a hit into right field that Gillingham fumbled, allowing the runner to go to third, whence he brought in the winning tally for a 4 to 3 count, by sliding into the home plate faster a ground hit had to third.

In spite of the severe winter Dartmouth's athletic teams have been able to get a much earlier outdoor start than usual.

The drawing for the events at the University of Pennsylvania games to be held in New York April 26 and 27, show that to date 25 colleges from the east and five from the Middle West have been listed. This is fully up to the standard of past and more tranquil seasons and if all the teams line up at the starting mark, the contest should provide thrills in keeping with the previous records in these events.

Bowdoin college and Holy Cross are battling for supremacy on the diamond at Worcester this afternoon.

During 21 years as a player in the National League, Hans Wagner of the Pittsburgh team has cranked out a total of 100 home runs.

Tom Drank, the Belgian wrestler, who lost to Cyclone Burns in this city a few weeks ago, won from John Grundovich at Tulsa, Oklahoma, April 20.

The four-year-old green trotting stallion, St. Peter, by the world famous sire, Peter the Great, 2:07 1-4.

BRITISH REGAIN ALL LOST GROUND

(By Associated Press)

The great German drive on the Somme and Amiens sectors which began on Wednesday has developed into a terrific struggle, the tide of battle swinging to and fro for two days and still hangs in the balance.

The British who had been forced out of Villers-Bretonneux have in a fierce counter attack, swept the Germans back to a point where they were when they began their new offensive and inflicted heavy losses. The French have been forced out of Hainard which they gave up after a hard struggle and made the Germans pay dearly for the place. They however hold all of the heights about the town.

To the southwest of Ypres where a second offensive has been started the British and French are holding out not giving ground to the fierce onslaughts of the Germans.

Wounded Americans arriving at the base hospital back of the French line on the Somme, shows that General Pershing's men are taking their full part in this great battle by the side of the French and British.

Notwithstanding the frantic preparation of the Germans for a continuation of their drive at the expense of heavy losses their going have been very small.

Along most of the line the Germans assaults were hurled back by the British to a point where they had retired after their first offensive. It is unofficially reported that they have used from four to six fresh divisions or from 48,000 to 72,000 men against the British and French lines at Ypres. It was rumored on Thursday that Moun Kemmel had been taken by the enemy, but this has not been confirmed.

The slight gains at only two points show that the Allies were prepared for the assault and are putting up a stiff defense and it is one of the most encouraging part of the struggle.

In the past three weeks the Germans have been bringing up heavy cannons and he has brought west several fresh divisions. Their failure to gain with all of this preparation indicates that the Allies are now masters of the situation.

Raiding operations are reported east of Montdidier on the French front.

It is officially announced at The Hague that negotiations between Germany and Holland are not satisfactory but the Dutch foreign ministers would not indicate where the hitch was.

Winston S. Churchill, the Minister of Munitions, said in the House of Commons Thursday that despite the strain on production and the loss of the army in the German offensive for the past five weeks the losses had all been made good many times and that there were supplies enough and munition on hand enough to keep up the present intensive fighting until next winter.

AMERICANS IN
Washington, April 25.—American troops are believed to be engaged in the fighting around Hainard. The official statement from Paris last night stated this portion of the line as the Franco-American front, confirming the impression here that some part of General Pershing's forces have been assigned with French corps in that vicinity.

The juncture of the French and British lines apparently is somewhere between Hainard and Villers-Bretonneux, which lie just north of the Ulver-Lure, and cover two of the great highways along which the German advance toward Amiens is directed. Villers-Bretonneux was captured by the Germans yesterday, the extreme right of the British line and the extreme left of the French line thus having been forced back about a mile in this renewal of the main German drive. If American troops are being used to support and stiffen the line at this juncture, there is every reason to believe that they have already been heavily engaged.

HOLDING UP HOME RULE DRAFT

London, April 25.—A division of views has prevented the Cabinet Committee appointed to draft a Home Rule bill for Ireland from elaborating a definite scheme as speedily as was hoped the Yorkshire Post says. Certain members of the committee are standing for recognition of Ulster's position.

Meanwhile the Federal plan is being discussed widely. The Unionists generally regard it as desirable, in any scheme of Federalism, that Ulster should be included as a unit.

A VICTORY FOR IDEALS

(By Associated Press)

New York, April 25.—Conveying a message of loyalty and good will from the French newspapers, Stephen Lausanne, editor of the Paris Martin in an address here this evening, said that all of the Allies are united for a victory, not the victory of France or the Allies, but the victory of the ideals for which we are fighting, rights, justice and humanity.

CATERPILLARS IN SAXONY

(By Associated Press)

Amsterdam, April 25.—There are indications, says a Saxony paper, that 1918 will be, like its predecessor, a "caterpillar year." Strict instructions have been given to orchard growers to search for and destroy caterpillars.

In all the Dutch parks, special caterpillar squads are already busy.

FORDS THE UNIVERSAL CAR

It is now necessary to ship all Ford cars over the road to the dealers. This is necessary because of freight conditions together with the shortage of material and the delay in transportation. Ford cars will be at a premium before the summer is over. We have just received a shipment of cars from the assembling plant at Buffalo and they are now ready for delivery. These cars have all been run just far enough to take the stiffness out of the motors and are in the best of condition. Buy your car today and save delay. In the near future you will be unable to buy a Ford at any price owing to the shortage of cars.

MARINES HAVE HEAVY CASUALTIES

Washington, April 25.—Marines fighting in France have had a total of 274 casualties, Marines Corps headquarters announced today. The casualties were divided as follows:
Officers wounded 4; enlisted men killed 34; enlisted men wounded 236. One company lost 21 men killed and 140 wounded out of a total strength of 250 men.

This is the first official announcement that the Marines are taking an active part in the fighting. The Marines were among the first soldiers to go to France, but it had been understood they were being used for police purposes, back of the fighting line.

REPUBLICANS TO PLAY FAIR

Washington, April 25.—Republican leaders of the House told Speaker Champ Clark this afternoon that they would not attempt to regain control of the House if he should resign as Speaker to accept the senatorship offer of Governor Gardner of Missouri. They said that so far as they are concerned they would not attempt to defeat the Democrat selected for the balance of the present session. One of the most prominent Republicans in the House said after the conference that it is his personal opinion Mr. Clark will accept the place in the Senate. Many Democrats and Republicans believe the Speaker will decline the offer.

The House gave Speaker Clark a

RAMMED GERMAN PLANE AND ESCAPES

(By Associated Press)

Debated the British Lines in France, April 25.—A British machine rammed a German airplane in an aerial battle a few days ago. The British machine afterwards made a successful landing, but the German machine was demolished.

The whole incident, as described to the Associated Press, shows the necessity for an airplane to develop an almost supernatural ability to deal with unexpected situations. It is generally believed that one of the chief reasons for the present German inferiority in the air is that the average German pilot is incapable of adjusting his mental balance as quickly as the young British pilot, in performing or anticipating the unexpected.

In this particular contest, the German pilot got his gun to bear at point-blank range on the British pilot in mid-air, the Britisher's gun being temporarily out of action owing to a jam.

The British machine was one of a squadron engaged in a long-distance reconnaissance behind the German lines. They had been heavily attacked by a German patrol, but by splendid gunnery and superb maneuvering had driven off the Germans after dashing four of them.

It was while pursuing one of the fleeing German machines that the pilot's gun jammed, and he was forced to break off his pursuit and climb up to the shelter of his squadron until his gun could be got into action again. Before he could regain his altitude, the German dived down on him. The enemy plane came out of the heart of the sun straight at him, so that he did not see the approach of his antagonist until the latter's bullets came whizzing through his wings. Glancing up, he saw his enemy only a few yards away.

It was impossible for the British pilot to dive or subside. The German would simply have followed him down and continued to pump in bullets at point-blank range. Neither could he remain on his course or a German bullet would surely reach him.

In a flash he summed up the situation, saw the only chance open to him, and snatched at it instantly.

Drawing back his control lever, he sent his machine shooting upward to meet the oncoming German. Before the latter realized what was happening, the two airplanes were in collision.

But the British pilot had so judged things—more by luck than good management, he afterwards declared—that his undercarriage crashed into the enemy's upper plane, tearing it clear of the main structure.

Both machines tumbled turtle as a result of the tremendous impact, and nose-dived earthward, a dive from which the German never recovered. He went crashing completely out of control.

The British pilot flattened out his machine after falling 500 feet and was able to rejoin his squadron minus his undercarriage, and with his machine otherwise almost undamaged.

But he had yet to land his machine in safety, and landing an airplane without an undercarriage is no easy task. His comrades all got down before him and gathered in a silent group at the corner of the aerodrome to watch him come down. His commander was so certain that disaster impended, that he ordered an ambulance to be got ready.

But the pilot confounded all their fears, and thereby added greatly to his professional reputation. He stuffed his airplane when only a few feet from the ground—that is, he pointed its nose upward until the forward speed was nearly off the engine. Slowly the tail sank downward. The rear skid touched earth and dragged along the surface for a few yards. Then the airplane fell forward and stopped with a jerk.

Hardly a fastening was strained, and the pilot coolly stepped down on the turf to receive the congratulations of his comrades.

TESTING FEDERAL CHILD LABOR LAW

(By Associated Press)

Washington, April 25.—The child labor law was enacted in 1915 and forbids interstate shipment of industrial products from plants in which children under 14 years of age are employed, or in which children over 14 but under 16 years of age work more than eight hours a day or more than six days a week.

The law was declared unconstitutional by the federal district court in North Carolina when Roland H. Dagobart secured restraining orders to prevent the government from enforcing the act, and the Fidelity Manufacturing Company which operates a cotton mill at Charlotte, from complying with the act by discharging Dagobart's two minor children. The government appealed the decision to the supreme court, where the case was heard the first of this month.

The measure is of the utmost importance to labor all over the United States, government attorneys pointed out in the argument, though the immediate effect of its enforcement would be chiefly felt in southern states, government attorneys pointed out in the argument, though the immediate effect of its enforcement would be chiefly felt in southern states and particularly in the cotton mills. Existing laws in a number of states forbidding the employment of children would be threatened. The government contended if the law were held invalid because manufacturers without child labor would have difficulty in competing with manufacturers in states which allowed it.

While the law was founded on the clause of the constitution which simply gives congress the right to regulate interstate commerce, the government conceded in court that its real purpose was not to control commerce, but to control industrial conditions within states. Attorneys attacking the validity of the measure founded their argument chiefly upon that. The effect of the law they continued, was to enforce within the borders of certain states a social policy which these states had repeatedly refused to adopt into law themselves. Congress, they contended, had no right to legislate for unwilling states by use of the interstate commerce clause of the constitution. Similar attempts to accomplish an end through the commerce controlling power had been nullified by the court, they contended.

The government's argument was that the interstate commerce clause had been so construed by the court that congress was more than justified in using it to forbid child labor. Decisions of the court sustaining food and drugs inspection acts and legislation to restrict shipment of intoxicants were cited as instances of the similar use of the power. The right to interfere with the police powers of states under the clause, if Congress had good reason for the interference, was said to have been established sufficiently before the court to make it certain that the ban on the products of child labor was constitutional, even though the North Carolina court declared that it was not.

In our churches, when we send a missionary to teach the heathen, money is given that we never expect to get back. Surely when we are merely asked to lend our money with which to send our khaki clad missionaries to whip the heathens—which they are going to do—don't forget that—we will not fall, not fail. THIRTY-FOUR LEAVE FOR CAMP DIX*Rockingham District No. 1 Sends Largest Contingent Yet—Two Brothers in Number, and Three Others Are Volunteers, Two Having Previously Been in U. S. Service

Thirty-four draftees, the largest number yet sent from Rockingham District No. 1, left this city Friday morning in a special coach attached to the 3.45 a. m. train for Concord. The boys were to change at Epping and go from there to Nashua where they were to join the other draftees from New Hampshire. While there dinner was to be served them. A special train conveying the five hundred men from New Hampshire is to leave Nashua at 4 p. m. They are expected to arrive at Camp Dix, Wrightstown, N. J., sometime early Saturday morning.

Sixteen of the thirty-four men from this district were from Portsmouth. Three of the number were volunteers who were anxious to get into the service, although their names were far down on the list and not in this call. They were Hugh Conway Hill and Robert L. Emrick, both of this city, and Richard Vandervort of Newmarket. Both Hill and Emrick have seen previous service in the navy. Hill having been a carpenter's mate, and Emrick a coxswain.

Two brothers, Edward Castle, Jr., of Epping, and Jerry John Castle, of Westfield, were in today's contingent. They already have another brother in the army. Another draftee also has another brother in the National Army. He is Pay Eugene Hart of Portsmouth, whose brother, Melville George Hart, now stationed at Camp Devens, went in one of the earlier drafts.

The local board sent one more man than was required, thirty-three being the quota asked of this district. Hugh Conway Hill was sent in place of Roy Macdonald of this city, who was scheduled to go with this draft, but could not do so on account of being ill with the measles. Merton E. Littlefield of Seabrook was the leader of the party, with Philip B. Bennett of this city second in charge.

The draftees reported at the local war board office in this city on Thursday afternoon and were given their final instructions and rationing papers into the service by Clark Marvin. Later they were taken in hand by the workmen committee of the Portsmouth Chapter, Red Cross, and each man was given an outfit of knitted goods, a sweater, a helmet, a pair of wristers, and two pairs of woolen socks, which is now a part of their equipment, as much as their uniforms.

Those of the men from out of the city were given quarters for the night and the local boys allowed to remain at home. The men reported this morning at the war board office and were escorted to the station by the board officials, where a crowd of between two and three hundred had gathered to see them off and as they left the crowd gave them a hearty farewell cheer.

The next call has been issued for May 7 when the local board for Rockingham county No. 1 has been asked to send six men to Tufts College, Medford, Mass., for technical training. These men may be volunteers. All that is necessary is that they have a grammar school education and possess some previous mechanical experience. Anyone possessing these qualifications can volunteer and be inducted into service. This mechanical training at Tufts is especially desirable.

On May 10 this district has been asked to send eight men to Fort Shacoah, N. Y.

DATES SET FOR THE BIG P. A. C. MINSTRELS*Sixty People Will Appear for Red Cross Benefit.

The dates for the big P. A. C. minstrel show have been set for Monday and Tuesday, May 13 and 14. This performance is for the benefit of the local Red Cross and should be greeted by an audience which will pick the Portsmouth theatre to the doors.

The club is well established in black face comedy and has produced the largest and best amateur minstrels in New England. Sixty faces will be in the rays of the footlights on the above dates with 12 end men and an orchestra of the same number, all picked men. Many musical features will be introduced and an olio will be of the snappy and catchy variety, in fact it will be the best organization and stage.

Horace L. Rowe, who knows a thing or two about such local performances, is the musical director and Fred E. Hasty will steer everything in general on this occasion. He needs no introduction to the public in this line and says that the 1918 company will walk away with the honors on Old Music hall stage.
